HOOVER TO WELCOME BYRD

HIGHEST HONORS ARRANGED FOR YOUNGEST REAR ADMIRAL

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 17—An Ensign retired by the navy 11 years ago will return to Washington Thursday as the youngest of rear admirals—and with the fame of flights over both ends of the earth.

The day after he steps ashore in the United States and receives New York's welcome, Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd will bring his entire Antarctic party to Washington and receive from President Hoover a special medal of honor of the National Geographic society.

The President will greet the explorer and his command twice—shortly after noon at the White House and again at night when the medal is presented.

Will Give Report

Rear Admiral Byrd will give his report of the South pole expedition to members of the society, who furnished $50,000 for scientific work, and official motion pictures of Little America will be shown for the first time.

As a navy officer who at 41 has conquered by air the Atlantic and two worlds of frozen waste Byrd also will pay his respects to Secretary of the Navy Adams.

His career of explorations has been carried on during an extended leave from the navy—even though a leg injury caused his removal to the retired list four years after his graduation from Annapolis. That was 14 years ago.

Scarcely a month of retirement had passed however, before the government recalled him to active duty—a service that has been continuous ever since.

Won Wings In Navy

He won his wings as a navy aviator was in charge of navigational preparations for the first trans-Atlantic flight—that of the navy flying boats in 1919—and served in the bureau of aeronautics.

It was not until late in 1924 that congress' attention was called to a young officer who was a leader in naval aviation, but who was performing active duty with no chance of promotion—because he was carried on the navy rolls as "retired."

In 1925 he was voted the rank of lieutenant commander on the retired list, shortly before he was given command of his expedition to the North pole, where he won a second promotion.

The rear admiralship was voted him last year after his now historic South pole flight, and special medals for his entire party have been voted by congress.

Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd above, is to be welcomed by President Hoover Thursday, a day after his return to the United States. He came back from Little America in the bark City of New York (left).

FRIDAY LAST DAY TO OBTAIN PERMITS

Cigaret Dealers In County Must Get License This Week, Shelton Advises.

Cigarette dealers must take up their licenses on or before Friday of this week if they wish to avoid the possibility of a fine, County Treasurer Bert J. Shelton said today.

Only 54 of the 118 dealers in the county had taken out their licenses today.

Fee for retail dealers is $50 and for wholesalers, $200. There are only three wholesalers listed in the county.

Friday also is listed as the final date for paying real estate and personal taxes for the last half of 1929.

Daily Proverb—"Great parts produce great vices as well as virtues."

We may not be the most law-abiding nation on earth, but it's a cinch that we are the most law-passing.

Less than a week after he was proclaimed king, Carol II laid off for a four-day vacation. He must think "kinging" is something like a bank job.

"All I want," says Peggy Hopkins Joyce, "is one man who will love me for myself only and not because I am a success." It's a burning shame that some big, manly man can not appreciate such a modest little violet as Peggy shows herself to be.

Thirty-three persons were killed in Ohio Sunday while pleasuring. That's taking the injunction to make Sunday a day of rest far too literally.

Raids made by dry agents at Niagara Falls on trains bringing Shriners back from Toronto yielded between $1,000 and $5,000 worth of choice wines and liquors. Evidently a comparative few forgot the obligation which they owed to the many of their order.

It is claimed that the new tariff will increase the cost of living twenty per cent. Maybe so. But very often we picture ills to come which never materialize. And sometimes the means with which to buy increases with the increase in the living cost.

In view of the fact that Aimee Semple McPherson found another desert to cross, it may be taken that she looks upon the trip from which she has just returned as a great success.

President Hoover denies that he is aiding Candidate Morrow in the New Jersey senatorial campaign. Neutrality may be the proper course for a president. It may be good politics. But aid might be rendered to a candidate of Mr. Morrow's worth without any violation of good citizenship.

Come to think of it, the failure of the brow-beating senators to assault Bishop Cannon may be due to the fact that they didn't want to be accused of hitting a man on crutches.

Dry agents raided five restaurants in one New York City block and found all of them serving liquor. Five speakeasies to the block is going it pretty strong, but it is well to remember that the population of New York is terribly congested, and the city probably has its full quota of "best citizens."

American Love for the Beautiful.

Europeans are prone to think and speak of Americans as dollar-chasers. They hold us crude—utterly unappreciative of the artistic and beautiful. When we acquire or produce that which is artistic or beautiful, we are not credited with appreciation of its art or its beauty. We are held to have made it ours for the purposes of "show." It is held to be an evidence of our weakness for ostentation.

This is not true of all Europeans, of course. There are Europeans of intelligence, culture and refinement who know to the contrary. But the great masses of Europeans who, lacking in intelligence and enlightenment, yet do not hesitate to judge of us, speak of us as sordid and lacking in a taste for the higher things of life, as blind to the beautiful for the sake of its beauty.

This was brought to mind by reading in a New York paper, a day or two ago, of the sacrificing of the monetary return from millions upon millions of dollars for pure love of the beautiful which, instead of being ostentatiously displayed, is hidden by great walls of brick and stone from the public eye.

For years, it was stated, the owners of apartment buildings in New York have been appealing to the American love of the beautiful by constructing gardens in interior courts at the sacrifice of building space which, built up, would have brought great returns. This, it was stated, was particularly true in construction along Park avenue, where every apartment building of any consequence has its garden—a gem of its kind. One of these gardens is described as having a length of 270 feet and a width of seventy feet, the value of the land it occupies being estimated at $4,500,000.

By the wildest possible flight of the imagination, one can not picture a counterpart in Europe of this utilization by private interests of realty valued at $4,500,000 to appease the European taste and demand for the beautiful.

The New Tariff Law.

The new tariff law—it is assumed that the bill will have received the presidential signature and become a law by the time this reaches the reader—may be good or bad, but the knowledge that the sixteen months of congressional dawdling over it is at an end can not prove other than beneficial.

The uncertainty regarding what might be the child of congressional delay and seeming indifference to the country's interests is no longer a bar to a return to normal conditions. Business and industry, slowed up for almost a year and a half and meanwhile suffering one of the greatest recessions in the history of the country as a result of lack of knowledge regarding the conditions which would have to be met, at last knows what is ahead of them. They may now proceed on a charatered course so far as tariff schedules are concerned.

As to the merit, or lack of merit, of the measure, time alone will tell. The fact that the bill was a target for criticism the country over, does not preclude the possibility that the law may have virtues as well as defects. There never has been a tariff bill which escaped criticism. There never has been a tariff law which at the time of its enactment gave satisfaction the country over, and there probably never will be, so long as tariff measures are politically drafted, rather than scientifically, for one drafted for the serving of political ends must necessarily be one of selfishness—political selfishness, class selfishness or sectional selfishness, or all of them combined.

The President, in signifying his intention to sign the bill, told the country that congress was called into special session to enact a measure to work relief to agriculture because of the fact that such was the platform promise of his party and his belief that platform promises must be more than mere gestures.

Standing on his party's platform, the President achieved the greatest popular vote ever given a presidential candidate. Accepting the vote as a mandate, he called the special session to revise the schedules on farm products, the theory for such revision being that higher schedules would benefit the agriculturist and so augment his purchasing power as to prove of benefit to the country generally. Congress was not content to limit its work to revision of agricultural schedules, but insisted on going all up and down the line of something like 3,000 tariffs.

Insincerity equally as great as that which marked some criticism of the bill, was in evidence in congressional handling of it, so manifest being the politics played as to augment the feeling that congress was indifferent to the welfare of the business and industrial interests of the country as a whole, and thus to the country's interests generally. Many members voted for schedules they deemed would prove beneficial to their states or districts and then, in the conviction that the bill was sure to pass, voted against the bill in the form in which it came out of congress.

Drafted under such conditions, any tariff measure would be bound to have its defects, and the present measure is not an exception to the rule. President Hoover frankly admits that it is not without its weaknesses, but holds that the flexible provision on which he insisted will make possible the correction of them as they develop. Let it be hoped that he is right in this anticipation. But no matter whether the future proves him to be right or wrong, the economic price the country has paid for the measure has been more than it is worth. It is hard to escape the feeling that it might have been better had a platform promise been sacrificed.

Harold Nicolson says that "efficiency ceases to be efficient the moment it becomes fuss." True enough. But the trouble is that the great majority is utterly unable to distinguish the dividing line.

During the years 1923-1928, arms and munitions of war were exported from twenty-seven countries, Great Britain leading with thirty-four per cent. of the exports, the United States being second with 15.2 and France third with 14.8 per cent. There can be little question of the work these three great countries are doing for the peace of the world!

Editorial Opinion.

THE PRESIDENT ON THE TREATY.

In the final sentence of a statement issued yesterday regarding the naval treaty now pending before the senate, the President met squarely and effectively an objection that has been raised to the treaty by some of the opponents to its ratification. He said: "There is not one scintilla of agreement or obligation of any character outside the treaty itself."

This means explicitly just what the President said, that whatever there is of agreement, of limitation, of understanding between the powers signatory to the treaty lies in the instrument. There are no hidden compacts, no secret agreements, no implied obligations beyond the text.

As in his final sentence he President specifically quashes an indictment of the treaty brought by its foes, so in his first sentence he clears the air of any possible misunderstanding regarding what the treaty does, in fact, accomplish for the United States. The real issue, he says, is whether we shall stop competitive naval building with all the destruction and dangers to international good will which continuation on these courses implies. Then he points out that the treaty prevents the necessity of spending an enormous sum in a race to catch up with competitors, with no assurance that we will reach parity and proportionate strength even with such an expenditure. He sets forth that this present agreement gives us a substantial parity and proportionate strength and therefore with our army absolute defensive power. This is accomplished by an agreement which makes for good will and for a decrease in the naval armament of the world, and which puts our program of naval renewals and cruiser construction at a cost far less than would otherwise be required.

The program is to let congress adjourn upon the conclusion of its present legislative schedule, then to call the senate in extra session to consider the treaty. There will be no adjournment without action. There must be a count of hands this summer, and the sooner the better. There is no earthly reason for honest misunderstanding of the treaty, nor for opposition to it when its purposes and its possibilities for the national and international welfare are measured.—Washington Star, June 14.

AN IOWA FEUD.

The senate committee on foreign relations has reported out the nomination of Colonel Hanford MacNider, as American minister to Canada, without recommendation. This course was taken after Senator Smith W. Brookhart had formally protested to the committee that Colonel MacNider, who also comes from Iowa, was "personally objectionable" to him. Senator Brookhart will now attempt to block action on the nomination at this session; and, if it comes up, will fight to have it rejected.

The practice has been to consult senators with respect to appointments to federal offices within their states; and it has not been customary to appoint postmasters, United Sates marshals and similar officials who were "personally objectionable" to the senatorial dispensers of patronage in the districts in which they were to serve. Senator Brookhart would extend this practice to federal appointments that concern the United States as a whole. Apparently he forgets that the United States is bigger than any one of its states and that a citizen of any one of those states is at the same time a citizen of the United States.

At Ottawa, Colonel MacNider will represent more than Iowa. Attempting to block the confirmation of his nomination because he is "personally objectionable" to another Iowan would be following, under any circumstances, a vicious and untenable doctrine. When it is known that Senator Brookhart's objection to Colonel MacNider's appointment is based on the colonel's refusal to sleep in the same political bed with the senator, what is innately vicious becomes also ridiculous. The difficulties experienced in obtaining suitable men for our foreign service are great enough, without making it an additional requirement that a man shall be persona grata to so erratic a partisan as Smith W. Brookhart.—Detroit Free Press.

"Athlete's Foot" Too Prevalent.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

I receive hundreds of letters from my readers about foot disorders. Every one of us has at some time or another complained about aching, burning feet. Some times it is because we are wearing the wrong kind of shoe. More often, however, the discomfort has a more serious underlying cause.

A doctor friend of mine originated the term "athlete's foot." This term is used in place of the old names of "toe itch," "dhobee itch" and "ringworm," which have an unpleasant sound and often prevent the public from freely discussing the malady.

I am told that last year in a single university out West fifty-four per cent. of the students were afflicted with ringworm of the feet. At least one-half of the adult population suffer with this trouble at some time or another.

Athlete's foot, or ringworm, generally begins between the toes and spreads gradually along the sole and sides of the foot. The skin becomes reddish and scales, which are either dry or moist, cover the affected part. When peeled off, these scales leave an inflamed area. There is a slight itching. The condition spreads slowly. For this reason it may run along for weeks or even months without attracting attention. But in the later stages the nails become brittle and yellow, and finally very much thickened and nearly black.

This ailment is caused by a vegetable fungus, commonly found on the floors of gymnasiums, swimming pools and bathing places. When the feet are moist, as following a swim or shower, the germ takes root. The infection can be easily transmitted from one member of a club or gymnasium to many other members of this particular group.

The great prevalence of this condition should be a warning to all those who have ringworm of the feet or nails. The proper treatment should be started immediately and the patient must remain away from swimming pools, gymnasiums or other places where there is an excuse for walking barefooted. Care should be exercised not to transmit the disease by means of towels or other articles.

Ringworm can be cured by the application of a mild anti-parasitic ointment. Some cases require long continued treatment and the disease must be completely eradicated or the infection will appear in any uncured part.

Careful inspection will reveal this ailment to many who are unaware of its presence and proper treatment will prevent its transmission to others.

R. P. G. Q—I am troubled with headache, gases and poor elimination. What can I do to correct these disturbances?

A—Indigestion and constipation would be apt to cause these symptoms. Correct your diet and take more exercise.

* * *

MRS. C. M. Q—My eleven year-old son, rather thin and underweight, is troubled with peeling of the fingers and toes, is this serious and what treatment is advised?

A—Probably due to eczema. Regulating his diet and keeping his bowels active should be generally helpful.

Magnetism and the Sun.

BY ARCHIBALD HENDERSON.

It is generally recognized that all variations in magnetic, electric, earth current, and radio conditions on our globe and in polar lights are connected in some way with activities of the sun. The fact of this connection has been established, indirectly, in the following way. These fields are unquestionably modified when the sun's rays are cut off from a portion of the earth and of its atmosphere during a total eclipse of the sun by the moon. This fact has been conclusively established by the results of seven eclipse expeditions sent out by the division of terrestrial magnetism, a section of the Coast and Geodetic survey of the United States government.

There are many unsolved mysteries connected with the subjects of magnetism, electricity and atomic structure. For example, a piece of iron may be magnetized; but what property of atomic or molecular structure results when the transformation has taken place? Extensive experiments carried on in the experimental laboratories of the division of terrestrial magnetism at Washington show that certain bodies become magnetic as the result of rotation. Conversely, it has been shown that rotation may be caused by magnetism. The probable connection of these discoveries with the unsolved problems of cosmic evolution are of capital scientific importance.

It is well known that the displays of the aurora borealis or northern lights are particularly splendid in years when sunspots are especially active. There is a certain periodicity about sunspots, for every eleven years they are particularly abundant. Every one knows that the terrestrial globe is a spherical magnet, and that there are two magnetic poles. In some fashion, still mysterious, the spot on the sun set up magnetic fields, and the visible rays from these magnetic fields excite the earth until it glows about the poles. The fluctuations of these magnetic fields are registered by the beautiful and impressive phenomena known as the aurora borealis and the aurora australis—occurring, respectively, at the North and South poles.

The phrase "magnetic storms" is subject to considerable misunderstanding. They are especially prevalent when a large group of sun-spots crosses the central meridian of the sun's disc. As Thomas says in "Heaven and Earth:"

"In cellars deep underground, which are usually far removed from the disturbing influence of electric systems, the smallest movements of the needle are registered, and if any rather sudden variations occur, though they are merely harmless oscillations, we speak of a 'magnetic storm.' There is no lightning, no thunder; we human beings have no perception of the disturbance. But it is something very much more than a mere thunderstorm—on the sun a stupendous whirlwind is raging, compared to which one of our typhoons is child's play."

The late George Ellery Hale, distinguished American astronomer, discovered a law regarding solar cyclones which he formulated as follows:

The polarity of the sunspots, in any period of eleven and a half years, is always the same, from minimum to minimum, but in every fresh period there is a complete transformation of the north magnetic fields into south magnetic fields, and vice versa.

In consequence, we should speak of a sunspot period of twenty-three, instead of eleven and a half years. — Copyright, 1930, International Feature Service, Inc.

New York Day by Day.

BY O. O. McINTYRE.

New York, June 17.—The other late afternoon in the glowing splendor of a dying sun I visited the canine cemetery at Hartsdale, a short motor ride from New York. On a peaceful sweep of velvety lawn there my dog, Junior, was buried more than seven years ago.

Many believe sentimentality over the passing of a dog is mushy. Maybe it is, but it is an emotion as natural with some as breathing. At the grave, I recalled how Junior, mortally stricken by a careless motorist, crawled toward me, licked my hand and died. And there was a choke in my throat.

A command of mine sent Junior to his death and his lick of forgiveness to me is tinged with that spirit of forgiveness that sanctified the crucifixion. Perhaps dogs haven't souls, but I like to think that dogs we love and lose are romping in the Elysian fields and cocking ears now and then for a familiar voice.

The bronze at the entrance of Hartsdale burial ground for four-footed friends is dedicated to: "The War Dog, Man's Most Faithful Friend." The alert position, first aid kit strapped to back, the battered canteen and helmet at the feet tell the tale of unforgotten heroism.

There are more than 6,000 graves dotting the five-and-a-half-acre lot, which is planted with flowers and slit with cool gravel paths and slopes so impressively toward the river. Mostly dogs are buried there, but six horses, a lion cub, several parrots and monkeys are among its dead.

Plots range from $15 to $150, but there is one large plot upon which rests a $13,000 granite mausoleum to express the grief over "Sally" and "Toodles," two water spaniels. A still larger plot is owned by Mrs. McLaughlin, who was formerly Irene Castle, the dancer.

She has buried a monkey and six dogs there and seven tombstones have been placed over the graves. Still another grave is that of "Buster," a Gordon setter, and upon which is placed a rubber ball like the kind with which he used to play. The cemetery was established in 1896 by Dr. S. K. Johnson, a dog lover.

* * *

The finest and most interesting dog cemetery in the world is the Cimetrie des Chiens in Paris. In it are buried seven dog heroes of the late war and fresh flowers are placed on their graves daily.

The living musical revue has survived the assaults of the talkie revues. Movie magnates will make no further efforts to score over the in-the-flesh production. Their mistaken logic was that mathematical preponderance counted. That is if six principals and twelve chorus girls made a good revue, 600 principals and 1,200 chorus girls made one a hundred times better.

* * *

This specious theory was strikingly routed with that intimate effort called "The Little Show." It had no real stars but three or four principals, twelve chorus girls and a handful of scenery. Yet it played to capacity for more than a year.

The Way of the World.

BY GROVE PATTERSON.

The human body needs more laughter. Of course we have long known that the human spirit needs more laughter. But now it seems that our health demands a larger dose. Mary Ferguson, social service expert at Johns Hopkins hospital, writing in "The Family," tells us of the effect of full-grown giggles on the chemistry of the body and hence of the mind. Laughter brings about deeper breathing, exposes every cell to an increased amount of oxygen, and promotes digestion.

* * *

Speaking of laughter, one notes that Russia has a school for training clowns. Instruction is given in the art of being funny and grotesque. The school is in Moscow, and furnishes clowns, both male and female, to theaters and circuses throughout Russia. Students in the clown school pay nothing for instructions. The government pays the bill in the belief that it is a good thing to furnish folk with laughter. Incidentally, clowns can spread Russian propaganda. Though one has no interest in the spread of Russian propaganda, there may be something in this idea of teaching people to be funny enough to make us laugh.

Comes now Dr. Reisner, famous New York pastor, who proclaims the passing of the jazz age in 1930. There is a saying that when anthing is bad it has to get worse before it gets well. The jazz age probably is not at its worst, though one hates to trample upon the optimism of Reisner. Dr. Reisner calls attention to the new style of books, "devoid of emphasis on sex." Here are some other of his reasons, according to the New York Times:

"He cited recent biography, which he termed cleaner and more idealizing; the growing interest in religious books, which have jumped from seventh to second place in the list of sales; the rising standards of the movies, the elevation of the stage, the growing interest of young people in the church, the increasing enrollment in theological seminaries and educational institutions."

* * *

In this day of mergers the question is constantly raised as to whether the big merger is a good or a bad thing for the greater number of people in some way involved in it. More economical operation may mean hundreds of men out of work and standardized products may mean poorer products. But there is one kind of merger that most of us hail with satisfaction, and that is the church merger. In 1931 one branch of the Christian church—a million strong—will unite with the Congregationalists. Other mergers are in contemplation. Unity is afar off, but that we even make steps toward it and think about it is a sign of improving and not decadent civilization.

Dr. Turley Reads Service at Snyder, Chambers Wedding

DR CHARLES E TURLEY pastor of Epworth M E church read the single ring service of the Methodist Episcopal church at 10 o'clock this morning at the bride's home when Miss Marguerite Snyder daughter of Mr and Mrs D J Snyder of 276 North State street and James I Chambers son of Mr and Mrs Warren Chambers of Canal Winchester were united in marriage in a setting of white and green.

The bridal couple exchanged the marriage vows before a bower of palms and summer flowers in the presence of immediate relatives and close friends of the bride and bridegroom. Mr and Mrs Harold Schwenfurth of Defiance attended the couple as best man and matron of honor.

Mrs Chambers wore a wedding dress of angel blue chiffon and net fashioned in the long lines. With this she wore a large hat of beige hair braid. Her flowers were an armful quet of bridal roses and sweetheart. A platinum and diamond pendant a gift of the bridegroom was her only ornament.

Mrs Schwenfurth wore peach chiffon with a large hat and accessories to correspond. Jeanne Hill rose made up her corsage.

Preceding the ceremony Al Downing was played by Miss Hazel Laird and as the bride and her attendant moved down the stairs the music changed to the wedding march from Lohengrin. "I Love You Truly" was played softly during the ceremony.

A wedding breakfast was served in the presidential suite of Hotel Harding to the relatives and close friends of the couple.

Silver bask ts of spring flowers centered the tables. Following the breakfast Mr and Mrs Chambers left on a two weeks trip through the north. She wore a canyon brown silk ensemble with tan hat and accessories to match.

After July 1 Mr and Mrs Chambers will be at home at 420 Forest street. Before her marriage Mrs Chambers was hosiery buyer for the Uhler Phillips Co. Mr Chambers is manager of the City Loan & Savings Co.

Out of town guests at the wedding and breakfast were Mr and Mrs Schwenfurth of Defiance and Mr and Mrs Warren Chambers and Miss Ruth Chambers of Canal Winchester.

The prize for high scoring honors in the 1930 baseball season will just about have to be conceded to the Mt Gilead American Legion team for its 45 to 3 victory over the Marion St Mary's nine in a regular league engagement at Lincoln Park Saturday The winners scored at least once in every inning except the fifth and in only one other the eighth did their score fall below three

The losers committed a grand total of 25 errors which should establish a record of some sort or other They gathered all three of their runs off Schaffer in the second frame

Publix Pep, after inhabiting the cellar for the greater share of the season, advanced to a tie for fifth place with St Mary's when National City forfeited Saturday afternoon He forfeiting team then added two ineligible players and the two teams played an exhibition game with the bankers winning 9 to 2 The losers collected only two bingles off Adams The batteries:

Dukes Press Monaco for Property Claims

MUNICH, June 17—It isn't the tottering throne of Monaco but rather property values that the Dukes of Urach want from the tiny principality of the roulette

This was explained by Duke Karl Gero of Urach in an interview published in the press

"We Uraehs have our feet in solid ground and have too many genuine professions to become playing card kings or enter musical comedy adventures" Duke Karl Gero said "What we want is the money due us"

Duke Karl Gero is an architect who began at the bottom as mason and carpenter for a construction firm

According to his statement, the Urach property claims are based on the heritage of his grandmother, Princess Florentine of Monaco who married Duke Wilhelm of Urach This heritage consisted mainly in annuities which Monaco was to pay but didn't pay in full Also the Uraehs possess a block of houses in Paris which was confiscated during the war

These claims Duke Karl Gero said are now being pressed with renewed vigor because there is danger that France will get tired of the marriage tangles of the Monacon ruling house and one day simply put that fine principality into her pocket

More than 2,500,000 radio fans pay a fee of two marks a month to the German government for the privilege of maintaining receiving sets

AN Ohio girl in the person of Rae Samuels (the blue streak of vaudeville) will be the guest artist on the Sohio Serenade from station WTAM, Cleveland, Tuesday at 9:15 p. m.

Born in Youngstown, Miss Samuels started her stage career at an early age. From an obscure singer in a Chicago movie house she has risen to stardom and takes rank as one of the great entertainers of the day. Songs sung in a style that is distinctly her own have made her a favorite everywhere she goes. In reality, she is a character artist that reveals her types through songs, and her character renditions of disappointed girls, boasting rokels and off hand philosophers are excellent.

In every song she sings there is pep, mysterious personality and elfin charm.

In addition to this noted guest artist the Sohio Serenade tonight will again include a number of specially arranged selections by the string ensemble which is known as the Sohio Fiddlers.

• • •

"School Days" and "Sunbonnett Sue" by Gus Edwards, two popular "kid" songs, will be heard when Vincent Lopez conducts the Pure Oil Orchestra in a broadcast over the WJZ network Tuesday at 7 p. m.

• • •

Frank Black's arrangement of five Jerome Kern songs will be featured over the WEAF network by the Happy Wonder Bakers Tuesday at 8:30 p. m.

• • •

A special arrangement of "The Volga Boatman" by Emery Deutsch, director of the Vagabonds, will be heard Tuesday at 6:15 p. m. over WABC and the Columbia Broadcasting System.

The Two Troupers, Helene Handin and Marcella Shields, will sing a group of popular sentimental songs over the WJZ network Tuesday at 6:15 p. m.

Rossini Honored In New Program Over WEAF Net

A SUMMER Eveready Program series presenting alternately popular and standard classical music will be inaugurated over the WEAF network with an all-Rossini concert Tuesday at 8:00 p. m. The orchestra will be under the direction of Nathaniel Shilkret for the series. Vocalists will augment each program.

Rossini's Overture to "William Tell," considered one of the outstanding compositions in this form, appropriately raises the curtain on the series.

Gioachino Antonio Rossini was born on Feb. 29, 1792. He received little education as his parents were poor and trouped in small opera companies for a living, the father as a horn player and the mother as a singer. The boy's achievements are traced more to the originality of his mind than to any definite education, for this was limited.

"William Tell," considered his masterpiece, was produced in 1829 and with this outstanding work Rossini abruptly closed his dramatic career at the age of 37. The only work of importance that appeared after this was his setting of the "Stabat Mater."

• • •

Mary McCoy soprano, sings "Somewhere, Sometime, Somebody" to express her sentiments over the WEAF network Tuesday at 6 p. m.

• • •

Bert Green author of "Love Letters of an Interior Decorator", will be Ray Perkins' guest on the Crush Dry Cronies and Old Topper program to be broadcast over the WJZ network Tuesday at 9:30 p. m.

• • •

From the fjords of Norway to the lands of the Hedskins in America range the selections of Golden Gems which Elsie Baker, contralto; Theodore Webb, baritone, and Hugo Mariani's orchestra will broadcast through WEAF stations Tuesday at 10 p. m.

MARION LODGE BAND TO MARCH IN PARADE

Odd Fellows To Send Musicians to State Meeting of Order.

Kosciusko Lodge No. 58, I. O. O. F., held its regular meeting last night in Odd Fellows hall. After routine business had been transacted plans were made to send the lodge band to the Grand lodge meeting in Cincinnati this week. Plans also were made to confer the initiatory degree on a class of candidates next Monday night.

The Kosciusko lodge band will go to Cincinnati Wednesday morning and will march in the parade there in the afternoon. The band will also compete in a band contest in the evening of the same day.

Besides the band, about 40 individual members of the lodge are expecting to go to Cincinnati Wednesday to take part in the meeting of the Grand lodge.

Mizpah Encampment No. 50 will hold its regular meeting tonight.

LAST NIGHT at the THEATERS

"Flirting Widow" Full of "Sensations"

IN order that her younger sister might marry, the oldest daughter of an old English family announced her engagement to what she thought was a mythical Colonel Smith in Arabia —and Colonel Smith got Ler letters and came to see her! "The Flirting Widow" at the Marion for the last times tonight, is replete with chuckles that come from imagining yourself in the same predicament.

Dorothy Mackaill and Basil Rathbone bear the brunt of the emoting, and Emily Fitzroy and Williams Austin are good for laughs. Dorothy's youngest sister Flora Gramley and Anthony Bushell are violently in love and constantly contriving to arrange an engagement for Dorothy, the oldest of the three sisters, so that they can be married.

Celia returns to London after a vacation and announces her engagement to a Colonel Smith who she says is in Arabia. As far as Celia knows there is no Smith and she confides to her aunt, Emily Fitzroy, that she announced the engagement so the two could be married.

Imagine her consternation when a Colonel Vansour announces that he has come with Smith's gift for her by Colonel Smith, whom Celia knows she and her aunt had reported to the Times. Of course the audience has a hunch that the Colonel is really a Colonel Smith who has received her letters. The picture ends satisfactorily.

Basil Rathbone is one of the stage men to go into pictures and the stage training shows up in his work in talking pictures. H. H.

Carnera-Godfrey Scrap Next Monday Night in Philly Has Possibilities

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
I. N. S. Sports Editor

NEW YORK, June 17—Contrary to all preconceived theories on the subject, there is likely to be no comical developments in connection with the 10 round prize fight between Primo Carnera and George Godfrey in Philadelphia next Monday night. Nobody is going to whisper thoughtless, light hearted banter in the ear of either principal about a nice ride somewhere after the fight; nobody is going to mistake vitriol for attar of roses while taxing the brow of his big, manly fighter.

It seems, in other words, that the boys plan to introduce what many will believe is an innovation in these very droll times. They are going to fight this prize fight.

At least, this is my information today and it comes from a source that leaves no openings for discussion. It is my understanding that Godfrey is to accept a flat guarantee of $10,000 and that the Carnera outfit will take 60 per cent of the gate, out of which it will pay Godfrey's guarantee.

THEY say, too, that the latter has been working like a ditch digger and will be ready to make the fight of his life, whatever that is. Personally, I have never detected this large party in the act of making the fight of his life or any other kind and, in different circumstances, I would be inclined to say that the fight of George's life simply wouldn't do at all. It wouldn't be good enough.

However, if he makes any kind of a fight this time, Carnera shouldn't come up for the fifth round. If he does, he will surprise a lot of people. If he goes the entire 10, he will astound everybody. If he wins——

It is entirely possible that he can and will win. The law says you don't have to lose and besides I have seen worse fighters than Carnera win from better fighters than Godfrey. Anyhow, if he wins this prize fight, the betting will be one dollar against two that he will be in there with old John Dempsey not later than next fall. Or should I say the fall, without saying whose? Well, anyhow, before the autumn.

* * *

OLD JOHN is undergoing a series of motions out in Los Angeles and soon may be ready to answer the demand of his public. In fact, I suspect that John may announce very shortly that he is ready to make the fight of his life.

If they ever get this pair together, Chicago is liable to be the scene of the gripping encounter in order that visitors may get a run for their money. If they arrive in time, they can see the stockyards the same day.

TIGERS CUT LEAD OF ATHLETICS BY WIN

Robins Continue Merry Pace in National, While Cubs and Giants Beat Each Other.

BY ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Brooklyn Robins are out in front of the National league park by only three and one half games but the cut-throat actions of the Giants and Cubs makes that advantage look mountainous at this stage of the pennant race.

Three days ago the Robins were three and one-half games out in front. Today they still hold that lead although the Cubs have gained one full game on the Giants by taking two of their first three contests. They meet again today.

Charlie Grimm, the league champions' field captain, proved the big gun in the Cubs' second victory yesterday. His home run with he bases full in the ninth gave Chicago an 8 to 5 decision over New York. All of the Giants runs were made on home runs by Terry, Jackson, Allen, Leach and Hogan.

The Pirates and Phillies staged a typical Pittsburgh-Philadelphia ball game, the latter winning a slug fest 15 to 11. At one time the Phillies led a 12 to 2 lead but the Pirates scored 11 runs in the last three innings. Chuck Klein hit in his twenty-fifth consecutive game and took the National league home run leadership with his nineteenth circuit drive.

The Cincinnati Reds had little mercy on Burleigh Grimes and Bruce Cunningham, pounding out a 11 to 1 decision over the Braves.

Ray Phelps turned in a neat pitching assignment to enable the Robins to defeat the Cardinals 5 to 3. The Lanky Robin hurler held the Cards scoreless for eight innings but injured his throwing hand in the ninth

TERRY IN DRAW

Main Go Fighter In Shovel Card on June 26th Shows Great Form.

A telegram was received here this morning from Jude Bateman promoter of the boxing show to be staged at the Steam Shovel gym on June 26th to the effect that K. O. Terry, one of the main go participants fought a sensational draw with Jose Gonzalez, lightweight champion of Mexico at Indianapolis last night.

Terry is to meet Jesse McMurtry, the Cincinnati Irishman in the ten-round final of the Shovel card a week from Thursday and was slightly the underdog. However his fine performance last night against a scrapper of Gonzalez's ability should augur well for the young southern Ohio boxer.

HEAVYWEIGHTS FROM HOLLAND, CANADA IN FEATURE BOUT HERE

Tom Draak and George Hills To Renew Old Feud in Main-Go at Shovel Gym.

It will be whoopee night at the Steam Shovel gym when Tom Draak and George Hills those two rambling heavyweights hailing from Holland and Canada, meet in the main event of a wrestling card tonight.

With a touch of internationalism to lend a bit of color to the engagement, Draak and Hills are booked to meet in one of those matches that will keep fans talking for days and days. Draak is noted for his rough tactics while Hills was able to take care of himself in a previous engagement in Canada.

Excitement will be keynote of the card if past performances of the wrestlers can be taken for more than snap of the fingers.

In the semi final Joe Banaski, the Oklahoma cowboy, meets Dude Chick, the lanky Texan, in a 20 minute battle. Chick is rated as one of the roughest light heavies in the game.

PLAY GAME OVER

Commission Votes To Replay Protested C. and O.—Yardmen Tilt.

Members of the Marion Recreation baseball commission at the regular meeting last night at the Y. M. C. A. voted to have the protested Erie Yardmen C. & O. game played over and to sponsor a benefit game to send a boy and girl to the Y. M. C. A. camp at Hepburn, Ohio, for two weeks.

The C. & O. team protested the game which was won by the Yardmen and the commission sustained the protest to the extent of ordering the game to be played over with the same lineups. The two teams have not yet been selected for the benefit game, but will probably be announced tomorrow. No date has been set for the game.

SCHOLARSHIP MEDAL AGAIN WON BY GRID STAR AT OHIO STATE

Tenth Football Player To Get Award; Martel Track Man One of Honor List.

BY EDWIN SCHOENLEB
Staff Correspondent for The Star
By Brush-Moore Leased Wire

COLUMBUS, O., June 17—For the tenth time since it was first awarded in 1915, the western conference scholarship medal at Ohio State university was granted this spring to a football star, Joe Uhelyi, of Lorain.

The medal is awarded for athletic, not scholastic ability. Football has been represented in the winner at Ohio State 10 times, tennis once, track six times, baseball on four occasions, basketball twice, and wrestling and cross country once each. This summary includes those men who have been prominent in more than one sport.

During his varsity career, Uhelyi earned three letters as guard on the football team and two awards as a hammer thrower with the track contingent. His scholastic average for four years was 2.65. Under the Ohio State grading system 4.00 is perfect.

Winners of the western conference medal for combined excellence in scholarship and athletics at Ohio State and their sports follow:

1915—Arthur S. Kiefer of Columbus, football.
1916—Charles A. Curran of Cleveland, tennis.
1917—Allen R. Rankin of Columbus, track.
1918—Howard F. Yerges of Columbus, football.
1919—Sheldon J. Mann of Columbus, baseball.
1920—Harold L. Kime of W. Salem, baseball.
1921—Andrew J. Nemecek of Lorain, football, basketball, track.
1922—John M. Huffman of Chandlersville, football, baseball.
1924—Harry D. Steel of East Sparta, wrestling, football.
1925—Lawrence N. Snyder of Canton, track, football.
1926—Ralph E. Seiffer of Evansville, Ind., football, basketball.
1927—Harold W. Kennedy of Martel, track, cross-country.
1928—Cornelius C. Ackerman of Wauseon, football.
1929—W. Paul Tooley of Troy, track.
1930—Joseph A. Uhelyi of Lorain, football, track.

SCHOOL BALL LOOP OPENS PLAY FRIDAY

Six Grade Schools Entered in League; Central Won't Defend Title.

The recreation baseball league between six grade school teams will swing into action Friday morning at 9 o'clock on the Silk Mill diamond. This loop, which is sponsored by the Y. M. C. A., had its first season last summer and was a great success. The teams will play two rounds of five games each, running the season until August 29th.

Local Railroad Team Splits Double Header

The Marion C. & O. baseball nine split a double header played with the Chicago team on the Shovel diamond Saturday. Marion won the first game, 10 to 7 and lost the closing tilt, 11 to 7. The batteries for Chicago were Madden Casey and Lewellyn in the first game and Hanson and Lewellyn in the second contest. Marion batteries were Darnell and Kurtis in the opener and Koontz and Darnell in the second game. The Marion team meets Fostoria tomorrow.

SHIRES TRADED TO SOLONS

Burleigh Grimes Sent to St. Louis by Boston Braves for Sherdel.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, June 17—Two baseball trades have been swung as baseball club owners and managers seek to strengthen their lineups for the crucial engagements just ahead.

In the National league, Burleigh Grimes veteran spitball ace, has been traded by the Boston Braves to the St. Louis Cardinals for "Wee Willie" Sherdel and Fred Frankhouse in a deal involving nothing but pitchers.

In the American league, the Chicago White Sox have exchanged Art Shires, slick fielding first baseman, for Garland Braxton, pitcher, and Berry Fare, Catcher, of the Washington Senators.

Grimes, one of the highest salaried pitchers in the league, came to the Braves from Pittsburgh this spring in exchange for Percy Lee Jones, southpaw, and an unnamed amount of cash. The "Lord of Burleigh," a hold out at Pittsburgh, has failed to round into winning form for the Braves.

Emil Fuchs, owner of the Braves hopes to bolster his witching staff with the addition of Sherdel and Frankhouse. The former chief slow ball pitcher, has been considered one of the steadiest of the Cardinal pitchers and Frankhouse has been used chiefly in relief roles.

Trade Unexpected

The trade by which Shires goes to Washington was entirely unexpected. Manager Donie Bush made it clear that he was letting Shires go.

CAMEL—made to smoke

ALL THE PLEASURE that tobacco can give is found in Camels! Mild! Fragrant! Soothing! Refreshing as the dawn of a holiday!

Camels are made for this one reason: To give you the utmost smoking pleasure. And this can be assured only by the use of the choicest cigarette tobaccos blended to an inimitable smoothness, and prepared by the most modern and scientific methods of manufacture.

When you light a Camel you have the happy knowledge that money can't buy a better cigarette.

Don't deny yourself the luxury of Camels

NOTICE TO DEFENDANTS, RESIDENCE UNKNOWN
Paul S. Gilbert and Ruth Madeline Gilbert, whose places of residence are unknown, will take notice that on the 3rd day of April, 1930, The Commercial Bank of Marion, Ohio, filed its petition in the Common Pleas Court of Marion County, Ohio, being Case No. 23,154, against them and others, praying therein to marshall liens and for the sale of certain premises, as follows, to-wit:
"Situated in the County of Marion, in the State of Ohio, and in the City of Marion, and described as follows: Tract 1. Being Lot No. 2568 in Dale Mouser's Addition to the City of Marion, Ohio.
Tracts 2 and 3. Being the undivided two-fourths interest in certain parts of Lots Nos 1947 and 1948 in Love's Third Addition to the now City of Marion, Ohio, belonging to the said Paul S. Gilbert and Ruth Madeline Gilbert, and located respectively on Bears and Thompson Streets in said City, and more fully described in said petition.
Tract 4. Being the undivided two-fourths interests in Lot No. 6882, in The Marion-Osgood Addition to the City of Marion, Ohio, belonging to said Paul S. Gilbert and Ruth Madeline Gilbert."
Plaintiff further prays that said defendants be compelled to set up what claim, if any, they have in said property, or be forever barred from so doing, that the Court adjust the priorities of the liens and claims of the said various parties to said action; that the proceeds of said sale be distributed among the claimants according to said priorities as the same shall be settled by the Court, and for all other and proper relief.
The above named defendants are required to answer on or before the 19th day of July, 1930, or judgment may be taken against them.

CITY BRIEFS

Escapes Injury — Miss Louella Mautz of 491 Oliver avenue escaped injuries when the machine she was driving was hit by a truck yesterday on North Main street. Miss Mautz, an employ in the Bucyrus Gas Co. offices, was driving to work and the truck was coming south. The wheels of the truck caught in the car tracks and swerved the back of the truck into the Mautz car when the driver of the truck attempted to turn back onto the right side of the street. Miss Mautz's coach machine was demaged. The driver of the truck did not stop to find the extent of the damages to the car.

Removed from Clinic—George Brown, Jr., was removed from the Smith clinic this morning in the C. E. Curtis ambulance to his home at 180 Evans road.

Removed from Hospital—Mrs Don Bosh was removed from City hospital to her home at 799 Sheridan road yesterday afternoon in the W. C. Boyd invalid car.

Recovers from Injury—Ella Mae Drake of Blaine avenue is reported to be getting along nicely after suffering a deep cut on her knee while playing near her home yesterday.

Improves in Hospital—Bernard Thomas of 580 Bennett street who has been a patient at White Cross hospital in Columbus, O., for the last four weeks is reported improving. Thomas has been suffering from an infected hand and an operation for appendicitis.

Enters Hospital—Eugene Mosher of 365 North Greenwood street entered City hospital Monday for treatment prior to an operation Thursday. Mosher was injured about four weeks ago while working at the Commercial Steel Castings Co.

Undergoes Operation—Mrs. Leo Davis of Richwood underwent an operation yesterday at City hospital.

Is Operated On—L. J. Ferguson of 910 Park boulevard underwent an operation at City hospital this morning.

Appendicitis Operation — Ralph Boyle of near Prospect was operated on for appendicitis yesterday at City hospital.

Mastoid Operation—Mrs. Maxine Chaney of 577 Herman street underwent a mastoid operation yesterday at City hospital.

Operation at Hospital—Mrs. Fanny Scherriff of Mt. Gilead underwent an operation for appendicitis today at City hospital.

Fetter Gets Pension—Pension of 67½ per cent of his salary as captain of company No. 1 was granted Edward H. Fetter by the firemen's pension board last night. The pension will become effective on Fetter's retirement July 1. Captain Fetter has been associated with Company No. 1 for the last 20 years.

Moose Lodge Meets—Marion Lodge No. 889 Loyal Order of Moose held its regular meeting last night at the Moose club on East Center street. Routine business was transacted.

Erect Signs—"No dumping" signs are now being erected in various quarters of the city by C. M. Tobin, sanitary officer, to prevent promiscuous dumping of garbage and rubbish on vacant lots.

To Remodel—Building permit to erect a $100 front porch on a dwelling at Vine and Church streets was granted to G. K. Kohlberger by City Clerk Sylvester Larkin.

In Columbus Hospital—Mrs. Paul Christman of Mansfield, sister of Mrs Walter Linder of Merchants avenue and known in Marion, underwent an operation at Grant hospital in Columbus yesterday. Her condition is reported improved.

Social Chairman—Mrs. W. D Drake is general chairman of the ice cream social to be given at her East Fairground street home today beginning at 5:30 p. m. The social is being sponsored by Circle 1 and 2 of the Trinity Baptist Ladies' Aid society.

GETS JUDGMENT

Defunct Cleveland Concern Wins Suit Against Marion Company.

A judgment of $3,294.91 for the plaintiff has been awarded by common pleas court in the suit of Joseph P. Sweasy, receiver of the Sheets & Cantrell Co. of Cleveland, against the Osgood Co.

The suit resulted from a conditional sale contract between the defendant and the defunct Cleveland contracting firm, in which a power of sale was involved. The defendant is alleged to have repossessed the shovel and to have sold it at a figure $1,000 less than the balance owed on it by the plaintiff. The court decided the plaintiff to be entitled to the balance.

O. P. Moon of Elyria and the law firm of Guthery, Strelitz & Guthery represented the plaintiff.

Motion of the defendant for a new trial, filed today, was overruled by the court.

Suit Dismissed

Suit of the United Telephone Co. against the LaRue Telephone Co. for approximately $1,000 has been dismissed at the costs of the plaintiff.

The defendant company recently was purchased by the United system after the former had gone into the hands of receivers.

Charges Cruelty

Extreme cruelty is charged by Mildred Smith in her suit for divorce from Roy E. Smith, filed today in common pleas court. They were married on Jan. 28, 1928, and have no children. The law firm of Mouser, Young, Mouser & Wurst is counsel for the plaintiff.

REPAIR STREETS

Work Starts on Two Asphalt Block Pavings Here.

Work on two of the 16 asphalt block streets to receive attention in the next six weeks was begun by workmen of the Asphalt Block Pavement Co. of Toledo, this morning.

First repair work on these streets is being done on Hill and Jefferson streets.

Faulty or broken blocks will be removed, replaced and the entire street will be resurfaced with a water-proofing treatment.

Oiling of Marion earth streets will probably be compelled in the next few weeks when the last shipment of oil arrives, according to D. J. Harlow this morning. Lack of oil caused an interruption in the work late last week.

Local Plant Secretary, Auditor To Attend Meet

D. A. Nystrom, secretary and auditor of the Fairfield Engineering Co., left yesterday for Syracuse, N. Y., where he will attend the eleventh international cost conference of the National Association of Cost Accountants.

Some of the subjects to be discussed include the 13 month calendar, market study and sales analysis, selling and distribution cost, standard costs and incentives.

TO GET DEGREE

Marion Man Will Be Among Graduates from Harvard University.

Richard Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Scott of 291 East Center street, will receive his master of business administration degree from the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration, at the annual exercises some time this month. After the conferring of the M. B. A. degree on Mr. Scott, he will leave to take a position in New York City. He is at home at present, awaiting announcement of the date of the commencement exercises.

HEALTH ENGINEER TO MEET CITY OFFICIALS

Will Go Over Plans for Proposed Softening Plant Extension.

City officials will confer with F. H. Waring, chief engineer of the state department of health, in the office of Mayor L. Don Jones at noon Wednesday relative to a proposed extension to the water softening plant of the Marion Water Co.

Claiming he had been asked to come here to approve plans for such an extension, Mr. Waring notified city officials he would meet with them to discuss the proposed extension. The offer was made in view of the fact the city is considering the purchase of the plant. Mr. Waring said in a letter to Mayor L. Don Jones.

Rain Changes Plans of Marion Rotarians

Plans of Rotarians to tour the plant of the Ohio Associated Telephone Co. as guests of A. J. Berry, manager, went awry when heavy rainfall trapped the club in the ballroom of Hotel Harding this noon. The visit was postponed to a later date.

Last night Rotary directors met at Boy Scout Camp John A. Owens for a discussion of Rotary problems.

BASS BITE AGAIN

June 16 Brings End of Closed Season on Game Fish

Armed with fly rods and daintily feathered lures, numerous anglers were seen along Marion county streams yesterday taking advantage of the first day of the bass season.

The game laws, behind which the wily fish have been protected during the spawning season which began April 20, no longer protect them.

Sought by fishermen for their palatability, gameness and leaps, members of the bass family will not the coming months an unbeatable prize.

AUTO RECOVERED

A Ford sedan reported stolen from J. J. Kelly last night was recovered in Mt. Sterling this morning. The car was taken off East Center street, according to police reports.

Waterproof paper linings, having extensions for handles, have been invented for garbage pails; being thrown away with their contents.

Flood lighting of stained glass windows from the outside has been installed by an English church for use at night and on cloudy days.
